

Amy's Marathon of Books

Who's Amy?

Inspired by Terry Fox's and Rick Hansen's Canadian journeys, Amy Mathers decided to honour her passion for reading Canadian teen literature while working around her physical limitations by completing a Marathon of Books.

Amy will be reading one Canadian teen fiction book a day for each day of 2014, in order to raise $100,000 for a new teen book award. She will read books from every province and territory, exploring Canada and promoting Canadian teen authors and books.

Take the 13 Book Challenge!

Read your way across Canada with Amy! While Amy is reading 365 books, she is encouraging you to pick one teen book from each province and territory so you can also complete a book journey across Canada! You can collect pledges for Amy while you read, or just complete the challenge for the fun of it.

Visit Amy's website to find her reading list, download pledge sheets, and more!
